Course Description:

This course is designed to provide law enforcement officers with the skill, knowledge, and abilities to enhance officer survival during combat situations. Currently, officers are trained to the standard where they have time, distance, and cover. This course will focus on the tactical environment whereas the officer experiences a startle response. The information is based upon an extensive amount of research, leading to the methodology used to design this course with the intention of developing the ability to predict behaviors, both cognitively and unconsciously in order to form a pattern of threat recognition.
